204.2 Excused Absence - Religious Holidays

Individuals have an inherent right to pursue their religious convictions and the Board of School Directors of the Colonial School District therefore adopts the following policy:

All students of the Colonial School District will be permitted to observe bona fide religious holidays of his or her faith without penalty by way of being marked illegally absent or by not being able to makeup lost work. A note from the parent should be on file prior to the holiday or within a reasonable time after the holiday.

Upon receipt of the note concerning the absence and establishing the fact it was in observance of a bona fide religious holiday, an opportunity will be given to make up work and tests missed during the absence.
